“ Aunt Margaret, I am so very sorry about Uncle Charles. There was a beautiful rainbow in the sky the day after he went to heaven. My daughter sent me a picture of it saying "Pop is happy to see his brother!" Uncle Charles was so good to call and check on Daddy when he was so sick that last year. Daddy enjoyed his phone chats with him so much. I like to think they are having a great reunion with Uncle Douglas, Uncle Bill, Aunt Fay, Aunt Jimmie, Ricky Don, and Granny and Pa. I miss them all so much and can't wait for my own reunion with them. I know you remember the time y'all visited us when Ricky and I were about four years old, and what a great time Ricky and I had playing, wearing our swim suits in the dead of winter, giggling at "ironing" play dough bras and girdles! We thought we were so funny! Y'all got in very late that night and it was real foggy. I remember Ricky Don calling it "froggy" but I wasn't quite sure why y'all laughed about that. Another time y'all visited us when I was about 16 was almost a disaster for me, but Uncle Charles made it all better. I think I was leaving for work and hit Uncle Charles' car in the driveway. I was already in tears by the time I got back in the house. I just knew I was in big trouble. Uncle Charles just laughed and was so sweet. He said, "It's okay, don't cry! That's what I've got insurance for." I loved him so! Such precious memories through the years. We are all praying for you and Tammy and the family during this sad time. I love you.
