“ I used to date Kevin on and off. He's been so heavy on my mind lately and I've been looking for him on FB. It's been so long since I've seen him I couldn't remember his last name. Then my friend shared his obituary. The very last time I saw you , you were on your way to the hospital to see your baby being born. All these years I assumed you were doing great! It saddens me to hear you are gone. I always cared and I always enjoyed the small amount of time I had with you. Prayers to all of your loved ones! ❤️❤️❤️❤️

“ You were the sweetest soul, the buddy we all loved to be with and hang out with and the one surely most likely to cause a ruckus wherever we were. That started, I would say about 6th grade. But you were you, and we loved you. We love you still. I will forever treasure my memories of you and me at our 7th grade dance and the laughs throughout the years as we grew up! You were our candle in the wind whose light burned out much too soon! You will forever be missed! Till I see you again on the other side of the clouds, I love you! ❤️

Kim Tijerina (you always called me by my whole name, so I leave it here in honor of you) 💔

“ *I never saw Kevin that he didn't stop and say hello and ask how I was doing.
Often followed with a humor. I'll miss my friend.
