

Lewis Haynes

September 13, 1938 - September 2, 2020

Lewis Deon Haynes, of Quinlan, passed away on Sept 2, 2020 in Greenville. He was born Sept. 13, 1938 to Jessie and Edith Haynes, both of whom preceded him in death.

Mr. Haynes worked for many years with LTV Aerospace and Defense Co. in Grand Prairie until his retirement. He enjoyed working on and repairing the many gadgets and machines that he collected and he had a talent for fixing anything. He also enjoyed traveling to, and playing his luck at, casinos until his health began to fail.

Mr. Haynes is survived by his wife, Willie Mae Haynes; daughter, Brandi Mae Haynes; brother-in-law, Junior Johnson and wife, Rosie; sister-in-law, Connie Johnson as well as several nieces, nephews, cousins, other extended family and friends.

A memorial service will be 6:00 p.m. Wednesday, September 9, 2020 at Max Slayton Funeral Chapel.

I missed my own father's funeral I guess only one of his children mattered to be mentioned or notified.

Cody you have good kids, a good wife to be, and you turned out great. That's what matters

He was a child predator. From 1960 to 1970 he molested me. What ever he was after he was convicted and placed of the Texas sex offender registry, was a lie and that's what he was best at. He was abusive to his wife Fay and other children in our family. SPEAK THE TRUTH TO EXACTLY WHAT HE WAS. Google it! I've kept tabs on him. ON EVERYTHING ABOUT HIM. It's scary he remarried to a woman with a female child. Hope they both have peace.
