Dr. Robert Lamar Woodham (Lamar), lifelong professor and teacher, passed away on October 4, 2021, at the age of 81. Lamar's life did not come to an end with his death. His teachings and influence, both in life and school, will continue to live on through his family, friends, and students, who were able to learn from his knowledge and experience. At the time of his death, he was a resident of Sunnyvale, Texas.

From his humble beginnings in Florida, his influence reaches globally, from Alabama, Mississippi, Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Thailand, and beyond.

Lamar and Frances were the cornerstone of the family. Their passion for each other and their passion for life provided a living example for their children and grandchildren for how a marriage should be.

“ Lamar was a wonderful friend! He loved Frances immensely! My best memories are how he supported her Mary Kay career! One year at our NSD banquet, he and several other men dressed in their best boxing attire and came in dancing to the theme of “Rocky”! What a fun time! We will always love you Lamar and will see you soon! 🙏🏻✝️❤️
